0000 Initial Comments

On 10/8, 2015 a unannounced follow-up monitoring survey was conducted on 10/8/2015 at DeJays' Adult Care. Uncorrected deficient practice was found at the time of the visit: A0080.

0080 Trainina - Core & Competency Test

Based on interview and record review, it was determined that the assisted living facility (ALF) Owner has been acting as the facility's Administrator despite failing to successfully pass the Assisted Living Facility (ALF) CORE competency test. The CORE competency test indicates knowledge of resident care standards and licensure requirements under section 429.52, F.S.

The findings include:

1) Record review of the Owner/Administrator of Record's personnel record indicated that she completed the initial 26 hours of CORE training in topics related to assisted living on 10/1/15 as well as an additional 12 hours of continuing education ALF training on 10/1/15. Further review provided no proof that the Owner/Administrator of Record had passed the CORE competency test.

2) During an interview on 10/8/15 at 12:00 PM, the Owner/ Administrator of Record confirmed that she had no proof of passing the CORE competency test. She stated that she had attempted the CORE competency test in 2015 and 2016, but had failed to achieve a passing score. The Owner/Administrator of Record stated that she took the test on 10/1/15 and was awaiting the results.

The surveyor spoke with an ALF CORE competency test program analyst per telephone on 10/8/15 at 12:15 PM, she indicated that the Owner/ Administrator of Record had scored a 61 on the CORE test on 10/1/15, which is not a passing score.

3) During an interview on 10/8/15 at 2:00 PM, the Owner/ Administrator of Record confirmed that she was aware that as Administrator of the ALF, she must either pass the CORE competency test or appoint another administrator who has passed the CORE test. Furthermore, the Owner/Administrator of Record admitted that she has failed to put a qualified administrator into place at the facility despite being cited by AHCA surveyors on 10/1/15 and again on 10/8/15 for not passing the CORE competency test, as well as being re-cited on 10/8/15 for failing to correct this deficient practice. The Owner stated that she had attempted to find an interim administrator, but produced no supporting documentation. When asked why she had failed to appoint a certified Administrator to supervise the facility staff and resident care, the owner stated " My residents are in no danger " .
