Based on record review and interview, the facility failed to ensure that one (Staff D) of five sampled staff members who have contact with residents received a current Level II background screening and had been found to be eligible to work in an assisted living facility.

Findings included:

A review of employee records conducted on . . . . showed that Staff D, who provided direct care to the facility's residents, had a date of hire of . Staff D's record also contained a Level II background screening document with the date of eligibility of . . . . . A review of AHCA's background screening clearinghouse website confirmed that . . . . was the last Level II screening determining Staff D's eligibility to work in assisted living facility.

A review of Staff D's application showed no employment dates, only the length of time working for various employers.

The Administrator was interviewed at 10:11 AM on . . regarding the concern that Staff D did not have the required eligibility status to work in an assisted living facility due to the time interval between the last job requiring a Level II background screening.

The Administrator immediately called Staff D and asked about employment dates. The Administrator relayed the conversation and stated that Staff D worked at an assisted living facility about three years ago and had worked at positions not requiring a Level II background screening since then. The Administrator ended the call and acknowledged that Staff D had more than 90 days in between positions requiring a Level II background screening. The Administrator stated that they would arrange to have Staff D complete a new Level II background screening.
